

Summer Seminar 2026

Thinking and Teaching Early American History

June 29 - July 1, 2026

The Colonial Society of Massachusetts

Co-Sponsored by The Society of Colonial Wars
in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts

The Colonial Society of Massachusetts, in collaboration with the Society of Colonial Wars, is sponsoring a three-day Summer Seminar focused on the Revolutionary Period using the Colonial Society's extensive resources, followed up with a fall one day Seminar on historical thinking and writing with a senior scholar. Designed for 5th-12th grade History and Social Studies educators, this Summer Seminar will offer Professional Development Points through the Massachusetts Council for the Social Studies as well as a stipend for each attendee who turns in a completed lesson ($1250) and attends the fall Seminar ($250). Lessons may also be published on the Colonial Society of Massachusetts and the Society of Colonial Wars websites.

To learn more about the focus of the Summer Seminar, please explore the extensive "Publications" and newly established "Documents" pages of the website of the Colonial Society of Massachusetts here: <https://www.colonialsociety.org/>

Each day will begin with a Seminar led by a leading scholar and member of the Colonial Society on the topic, followed by an examination of CSM Publications related to each time frame. Participants will collaborate and work independently to structure lessons using the CSM Publications.

Monday, June 29      Native America & 17th Century Early America

Tuesday, June 30      18th Century Atlantic America

Wednesday, July 1      Revolutionary America

Fall Seminar TBD      Historical Thinking & Writing

Goals:

- To make accessible digital primary and secondary resources of The Colonial Society of Massachusetts
- To empower middle and secondary teachers building curriculum using these digital resources, including providing lectures and current historiographic scholarship (via CSM member guest participants)
- To generate well-crafted UBD (understanding by design) lessons that are content-rich and skills-based as well as student-centered that demand students read, contextualized, analyze, and use primary sources; and to share these on the CSM and SCW-MA website

By the end of the 2026 Summer Seminar, participants will have created:

- A lesson or resource based on the digital Collections of the Colonial Society of Massachusetts that they will use in teaching and learning
- An enhanced understanding of recent historiography of Early America and the Revolutionary Period
- Skills for teaching rich and engaging primary sources of Colonial America

Eligibility

Public and Independent School educators are encouraged to apply, particularly those who teach between 5th and 12th grade history and social studies.

Expectations

The Seminar will meet in-person at the Colonial Society headquarters, 87 Mount Vernon Street, Beacon Hill, Boston. Attendance from 9 a.m. – 4 p.m. each day

Final project must be completed by July 13, 2026.

Lessons will be considered for publication on the Colonial Society website as well as the Society of Colonial Wars website.

Model lessons with a CSM leader in the classroom during the fall of 2026.

Applying

To apply, please use include the following:

- A cover letter of interest and goals including how participation will enhance your teaching and learning in the classroom (no more than 500 words)
- A list of your specific interests in these periods of colonial history
- A current CV or resume
- Send to: Charles L. Newhall, chair, Summer Institute: CLNewhall@gmail.com

Deadline: Monday, April 20, 2026

Host Sponsors: The Colonial Society of Massachusetts & The Society of Colonial Wars in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts

Sponsors: The New England History Teachers' Association, The Massachusetts Council for the Social Studies